WARTINE PROHIBIT FULL EFFECT NEXT TUESDAY

WASHINGTON. June 27.—Wartime prohibition will become effective next Monday at midnight without enactment meanwhile, by congress of additional legislation for its enforcement of a maze of confusing developments this fact stood out-selearly today with the decision of the house judiciary committee, charged with the duty of operating and submitting enforcement that the laws made it mandatory on the president to say when demobilizations.

Out of a mase of confusing developments this fact stood out selectly today with the decision of the house judiciary committee, charged with the duty of operating and submitting enforcement machinery, to report three bills in one, each standing on its own less and capable of helding its own in the event the others were made invalid by congress or the courts.

Chairman Voistead, of the committee, declared last night there was no possibility of the passage of the joint measure before July 1, but that there existed ample means of enforcement and ample penalties for violation of the warrine act. The full and explicit definition of intoxicating liquors—any beverage or product containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol—set by the bureau of internal revenue, left no doubt, he said, as to how the courts would construct he law of deal with offenders.

LISTENED TOO WELL AND CHOSE UNWISELY

Mandy Anderson, Promise McKinzie and Relia Easiey agridently have concluded that they did not choose wisely, when they listened to the matrimonial propositions put to them by Robert Anderson, Lollie McKinzie and Will Easley. Though each accepted her respective proposal, and accommanied her liege lord to the preacher, they now have enough of it. Mandy and Fromise files suits for divorce in the circuit court, while Relia sought to have the chancery court sever her matrimopisities. The declarations were filed Thursday afternoon.

We Henderson explained that the many small political groups in Mexics there are but two political parties-liberals and conservatives.

there are but two political parties—liberals and conservatives.

Six points make up the policy he has formed in regard to international affairs, as follows:

The inviolability of Mexican sovereignty; absolute respect for the sovereignty; absolute respect for the sovereignty and institutions of other peoples; complete recognition of all the rights legitimately acquired in Mexico or absolute conformity to its laws by all strangers; to give all facilities to capital that desires to invest in Mexico for development of its natural resources; extension in the most ample manner to foreigners resident in Mexico of all the guarantees and prerogatives Mexican law concedes them; a frank tendency to reinforce and widen Mexico's foreign relations.

Czech and Rumanian Armies Are Hailed as Saviors of Hungarian City.

Hungarian City.

BUDAPEST, June 27. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—What may be the last days of the "red" soviet republic here are fraught with such terror, hunger, mental misery, upprocting of family ties, heart-breaking parlings, flights, arrests and legal lootings that the majority of Hungarians are praying that such days may never come again. They live like people caught in a burning house with the firemen squirting benzine on the only escape ladder.

One way out may possibly be previded by the Czech and Rumanian armies, who, though national enemies of the Magyars, are now hailed as saviors. The atmosphere is charged with fears and alarms worse than those felt on any battle front. A contagious fear like that which prevails when an army is in rout is spreading even to foreigners, whose persons are comparatively safe from arrest, owing to the wishes of Bela Kun, the communist leader, and other ministers to save themselves from the gallows when the grand collapse comes.

When fathers and sons flee the country to evade arrest or to join the counter-evolutionists their wives and mothers whisper at the parting: "Let us hope we may meet in happier times."

When the correspondent of the Associated Press has had occasion to explain his nationality the listener, whether, red guard, peasant or civilian, has remarked with eavy: "What a fortunate man you are to be an American."

He would be possible to reach America and can."

He would invariably ask whether i He would invariably ask whether it would be possible to reach America and whether foreigners, former enemies, would be permitted to land on her shores. Peasants, who refuse to furnish food to Budapest or other cities because they are hostile to communism and want shoes and clothes more than paper money, of which they have plenty, gladly enough sold meals and supplies to the correspondent on the strength of his American nationality. The city of Budapest, which a few weeks ago had a plentiful supply of eggs—people almost lived upon them and potatoes—is now without eggs because of the obstinacy of the peasants. A great many of the stores have been closed for lack of goods to sell or because they have been requisitioned by the soviet.

There are many stories of their attempts to save their lives and property, some of which read like Arabian Nights tales. It is calculated that some 3,000,000,000 kronen worth of bonds, gold coin, jeweiry, plate, paintings and works of art have been saved from the clutches of the red guards and snuggled across the frontiers by blockade runners, afoot, on bleycles, autor peasant carts. Within a few weethere has grown up a system by which are percentages of the value of such property, often amounting to 50 pcent, have been given for its satransportation to Vienna or Agram.
